

Literary Notes.

THE HOMILETIC REVIEW for January, 1897, is before us. It would be difficult to name a more notable corps of contributors than the one that appeals to the reader of this opening number of Volume xxxiii. The following are some of the names represented in sermons and articles: Rev. F. W. Farrar, D. D., D. C. L., Dean of Canterbury, Sir John William Dawson, LL. D., F. R. S., etc., McGill University, Montreal, Canada, Rev. C. H. Payne, D. D., LL. D., Secretary of the Methodist Episcopal Education Society, Rev. R. S. Storrs, D. D., LL. D., the Rt. Hon. and Most Rev. Frederick Temple, D. D., D. C. L., the new Lord Archbishop of Canterbury and Primate of all England, Rev. Lyman Abbott, D. D., the successor of Henry Ward Beecher in Plymouth Church, Brooklyn, and Editor of The Outlook, Rev. David James Burrell, D. D., Pastor of Marble Reformed Church, New York City, Rev. Drs. James Mudge of Lowell, Mass., and James M. Ludlow of East Orange, N. J., Rev. Arthur T. Pierson, D. D., Rev. Wayland Hoyt, D. D., Rev. J. H. W. Stuckenberg, D. D., the specialist in sociology, Rev. William Henry Green, D. D., LL. D., the distinguished Hebrew scholar of Princeton Theological Seminary, Rev. Dr. R. Q. Mallard, Moderator for the Southern Presbyterian General Assembly and Editor of the Southwestern Presbyterian, etc., etc.

The Editorial Section is especially full in the present number, and the articles and the book and review notices are peculiarly helpful.

The Editorial Note on "The Twentieth Century's Call: 'What Shall We Do?'" outlines for the minister and the church an appropriate and natural method for using the month of January—the opening month of the Twentieth Century—in grasping and presenting the great themes that are fitted to give to the church a full and thorough understanding of the present situation, and an appreciation of the duties and responsibilities in the present crisis. It suggests simple answers to three questions:

I. "What Shall the Minister Do for Himself?"

II. "What Shall He Do for his Church?"

III. "What Shall He Do for and with his Fellow Ministers?"

We commend the Review to all our readers as preeminently practical, as well as able and scholarly, and as fitted to meet the needs of all who are called to preach the Gospel.

Published monthly by Funk & Wagnalls Co., 30 Lafayette Place, New York. $3.00 a year.

The January number of The Chautauquan is especially rich in the character of its literary productions. With the French Academy as a nucleus French literature, past and present, is made the subject of five attractive articles, three of which are profusely illustrated.

Mrs. Rorer's magazine, Household News, has been absorbed by The Ladies' Home Journal in order to make it possible for Mrs. Rorer to form an exclusive editorial connection with the latter magazine. All of Mrs. Rorer's literary work will hereafter appear exclusively in the Journal, of whose domestic department she will have entire charge. Several pages of the magazine will be given her each month, and in these she will begin by giving a new series of simple cooking lessons, to be followed by domestic lessons treating separately the care and arrangement of each room in a house.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address,
